

Std-III

GK

Rivers of India:-

Rivers of North India

*Snow-fed rivers

* Snow-fed rivers originate from the mountains . *Snow-fed rivers are fed by melting snow of the mountains.

*These rivers have water throughout the year.

*Rivers of North-India are called snow-fed rivers.

*Ganges

*Yamuna

*Satluj

*Chenab

*Brahmaputra

Rivers of South India

*Rain-fed rivers

*Rain-fed rivers are fed by seasonal as well as monsoon rain.

*These rivers almost dry up during summer and do not have water throughout the year.

*Rivers of South India are called Rain-fed Rivers.

*Narmada

*Tapi

*Godavari

*Krishna

*Kaveri

Fill in the blanks:-

1. Rain-fed rivers get water from _____.
2. _____ is the longest river of India.
3. Yamuna meets Ganges at _____.
4. Rivers that get water from melting snow are called _____ rivers.
5. Your city is situated on the banks of river _____.
6. Krishna is a _____ river.
7. Delhi and Agra are situated on the banks of _____.
8. _____ rivers have water throughout the year.
9. _____ rivers dry up during summer.
10. _____ and _____ are rain-fed rivers of India.